AMAYA: Well, finally. THE DVDS ARRIVED! The 3 yr. project goes into the next phase...getting it out to the world! Amaya's documentary "American Belly Dance Icons" is here! (Premiere screening of this film March 22 in Albuquerque, NM)

TAMILYN DALAL: This new film/ DVD has been in the making since 2018. Amaya MariaElena made Legends several years ago, about the generation of American bellydancers before us. It is an extremely valuable resource for all bellydance teachers to have and share with their students. I have shown it so many times. Now, our generation is being showcased in this film. Again, a must for every dancer to see and study. It is quite possible that that your teacher (and you) are from one of these teachers lineage or somehow connected to them.

KAREN BARBEE: It's incredibly humbling to be included in this. Actually seeing it in print made me take the time to think about it. So many in this group were personal icons of mine over my five decades in this dance!
Thank you Amaya!!!

ISIS: A massive project - thank you, amazing Amaya, for the drive, love and focus you have had to gather together and honor so many - I'm stunned to be included with these true ICONS who I admire so much - thank you!

And, of course, this year's epic Yaa Halla Y'all 2020 will also be honoring a number of these acclaimed outstanding ICONS, who will be with us, including our beloved Amaya, July 23-25th in a North Texas Premier Screening. Honoring those who have achieved and shared so much makes my heart sing!!!

AMERICAN BELLY DANCE ICONS

Before belly dance became a mainstream American sensation, it was widely unknown and misunderstood. Against all odds, some women made belly dance their life passion and as a result brought belly dance into the hearts and homes of millions. American Belly Dance Icons presents the extraordinary journeys and compelling stories of their aspirations and the challenges they faced as they followed their dreams. The individual contributions of these women were significant in helping create a worldwide community of celebration and self-expression through belly dance.

Returning to Dance Class after an Injury or a Life Change

If you wish to return to class after an extended absence (and I really hope you will), here are some suggestions of ways that have worked for others:

- 1) I have two girls who have returned recently who are taking private lessons to be able to test out and catch up with the level of the girls they were with when they left. They realize they're behind and have chosen that way to review the choreographies they knew, while attending the less advanced class they've chosen. And they get an opportunity to learn and enjoy, in class, the new choreographies that have been created or review choreographies they know. It gives brain and body time to catch up and/or to test-out into the next level.
- 2) If you've been away more than a year, I always suggest to those returning to consider signing up for ANY class at a level below the one they left (unless they were in Advanced I when they left, in which case that works just fine) to get back in shape. MANY dancers are having fun and saying they are actually learning more and dancing better this time around and they feel ahead of the class they signed up for, instead of feeling behind. If it's a new choreography they hadn't learned, it's easier to learn, fun and faster, because it's at a not-as-advanced level as the level when they left.

And, of course, if you've graduated from beginner before you were out, and re-sign up for any chosen Advanced I-III Class, you are invited to additionally attend a beginner class (only during the last three months of the six month course) for free, to build strength, stamina and skills. EVERYONE in the studio can do that, as long as they don't try to teach the class for me while I'm teaching :-). Sometimes dancers get so excited!!! And it's a great way to meet new people and make new friends.

- 3) Some people feel more comfortable being and performing with people they know, even though that approach may lead to frustration due to being behind their class mates due to being out. Each dancer needs to make choices according to her/his individual needs.

All of these are only suggestions, and you should do what you feel is right for you or where you feel most comfortable. I am always happy to welcome you back and to offer suggestions for you individually when requested.

with Love,

L515

A Reminder for all Dancers: The only class you can attend after graduation from the Beginner, Intermediate Beginner and Advanced Beginner 6 month basic course, with no charge, is Intermediate-Advanced Beginner, as long as you are registered in a class from Advanced I-Pro. All other classes, even if they are a level below your class, do have a fee since frequently that class is working on a choreography or dance skills that you may need or haven't had the opportunity to learn or need to re-take in order to re-eval for test-outs or because we have added new choreographies!
